REMARKS:

I've looked over this and it looks pretty good to me. A very minor point - "Factors" used to compare benefits available to Consultants vs WAE people on TAB B ~~do not~~ clearly indicate that a consultant can draw for diem during each day of duty (in addition to travel time) if he lives in another area. This is a small item, however.

REMARKS:

Please note General Cabell's approval of the attached staff study.

The Assistant Director (Operations) has requested three consultants who should be employed as WAE, part-time personnel in accordance with this policy. This should be done immediately. In addition, a survey should be made of all other consultants on our rolls who properly fit within this category and the necessary changes should be made. I would like to have this completed not
